

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM JESUS

Jesus, the prophet of all of prophets, sent by God's will of changing the world, in its internal image of incarnation of everything what is good in us, the acceptance of ourselves as a part of a spirit which is generously giving away our hearts for the better in all those areas where God's hand brings blessings. As we take a look in ourselves we find a path to inner justice in God's image and we find a peace, our inner peace which leads us towards world's justice. I'm giving you my blessings and I'm teaching you how to love and accept yourself inside of God's acceptance of your spirit, which gives inner strength and God's existence in each of us.

When we overestimate ourself, God is teaching us humility, how to accept a disease when we aren't forgiving, teaches us how to be unselfish and help the others, but above all is taking us on the right path when we slip off the way. When we aren't accepting ourselves as a part of God, we suffer in our and God's soul, God shows us the right path to change and to accept ourselves as a part of him, is raising our awareness through each of one of us and when we ignore God's existence in us, devine will gives us a strenght to live.

Within our daily work, God gives us love and patience and it shows us the right path in making ourselves as that part of God, which is needed to raise God's existence within us. The right way is the one we feel within our heart and the one which opens the old wounds in divine will of healing it and is showing us the right path, the path of courage, which encourages us on the way to our inner peace, confidence and the awarness of God's justice in ourselves.

Jesus gives us the power to find and accept every part of ourself as well as the part which makes us unique and important to God, especially arround Christmas time, when God's love is available to us and his awarness shows through each of one of us as the power to forgive and to accept his love within our hearts and open the path of God in ourselves.

Dictated by Jesus Christ, son of God, which takes care of you in your beautiful country, where the God's welfare is in the first place of national consciousness. I welcome you and the God, which is among us and gives us the strength and courage to overcome all of our temptations in life.

Jesus
