I have experienced special moments at Sandi's meditation classes. I still remember the feeling of subtle, serene and present energy in space that was surrounding us. It has been the same as the first time with my ex-boyfriend when I had a feeling of self-esteem and commitment. I have experienced the same energy flow running through my body, from the finger tips all way through my heart. It is a wonderful, indescribable sensation. Thank you, Sandi. All the best! I have really enjoyed at the workshop of evening meditation under the auspices of Mr. Sandi. In particular, I have been very impressed by interaction with God and various souls through meditation. It has meant a lot to me and I have decided to attend his meditation classes in Kranj as well. (Zlata)

I have been most fascinated by Sandi's meditation classes. It has been something absolutely new to me. There is an interesting approach and the viewpoint of meditation as well. I believe I'm going to attend it also in the future. It has been awesome. (Jernej)

In the beginning of attending Sandi's meditation classes I have been a little sceptical. I haven't been sure enough whether to believe it or not. I can say he is the only one who has convinced me. I had been inspired and fascinated very much. This was the workshop....wow... I would recommend his meditation classes to everyone. (Polona)

When attending Sandi's meditation classes, tired of everyday's stress, I can really feel how soothing and healing his meditation is for me. I experience very magic effect in one hour spent in his presence and in the presence of spiritual light beings that transmit through him. (Vesna)

Sandi, I have been aware of your meditation classes for many years. Even though this was my long time wish, and I have read so many spiritual and psychological books, why joining only this year? When life brings you so far that you have no other solution left, we ask for supernatural, intangible, invisible support. Nobody has ever told me about it, but I always had a premonition about it. Some Tuesday, full of prejudices from my past, doubts, anger and fears, I finally went to attend this kind of "spiritual" classes, which today mean the most to me. I have reorganised the rest of my activities only to be able to attend it. Thank you for all those hours, when I can feel the warmth running through my body, enormous pleasure and serenity. Thank you to show me the way how to feel butterfly energy tingling through my body and reminding me about the unknown beliefs. Finally, thank you for gently opening my mind and giving me new recognitions about the life and my soul, which has been solidly blocked up for a long time. Every Thursday meditation fills my mind up with the hopefulness and faith for a beauty and fullness of life. Every part of me absolutely agrees on your last article, which says that we must make an effort on our own and fight with the demons – this is how I call our lower ego and patterns related to it. This kind of soul-clearing is not very easy, but it's worth of it. Every time when I lose the focus, I say to myself: "Hey, girl, what did you learn on this occasion and how did you benefit from it? Is it really so bad? Most likely you are not expecting something that even other people don't understand? Is this only an illusion?" Therefore, Sandi, thank you once again and I hope we will be able to attend your classes as long as possible. Also lectures are more than welcome. Regards Nataša

At Sensa weekend I first time came across with Sandi's meditation classes. Few hours before attending it I found out that my best friend has passed away. Due to the shock I had run through on that day, I don't remember a lot. But I do remember very well Sandi's meditation classes where I left the place with full of peace inside of me. I still hardly believe it. At that moment I had a feeling of connection between me and my friend. Afterwards, everything seemed to be as it supposed to be. (Klavdija)

As a typical male representative I have initially only observed all the happening during Sandi's meditation classes. All of a sudden I had been slowly deepening into entirely different stage. The energy present in that space was getting stronger and intense and I have slipped into meditation. (Ales)

First time I went to Sandi's meditation classes a bit frightened. I attended various meditation classes but never able to stay awake by end of it. Therefore, I was afraid this would happen to me again. Surprisingly, I was concentrated on meditation for the whole one hour. First of all, I was impressed by his simplicity of speaking about so important things. I was wondering whether I was lucky to hear such an interesting topic. Later on I was told that it's always fascinating. We continued with remarkable meditation. I have never experienced something like that. When handing over our burdens, fears, anger and resentments I had a feeling of giving away something heavy. There was a strange moment of emptiness inside of me. Being confused, I didn't know how to deal with it. Only in next part of meditation, when receiving all necessary for our further action, I calmed down. The feeling of pleasant and soothing warmth had been filling up my body. After meditation I felt reborn. That feeling was lasting for a long time. I am grateful to Sandi to experience all this. For sure I will do it once again. (Magda)
